Arkansas Libraries and the A. L. A. Library Development Fund

At the county institute on February 9, the group composed of librarians and library board members voted to contribute to the Library Development Fund subject to approval of the Special Committee on Cooperation with the American Library Association. At the time this bulletin goes to press, all but one of the committee have been heard from and all have expressed their approval of the campaign.

Miss Eula McDougal and Miss Jacqueline Rainwater have agreed to take charge of the campaign among the county libraries. Mr. Marvin Miller, University of Arkansas, and Miss Ethel Millar, Hendrix College, will be responsible for the college group, and Mrs. Earle Spencer for the public library group. A representative from the school library section will be appointed later.

The American Library Association has set up a national quota of $105,000 for the Library Development Fund, with $480 as Arkansas' share, and has formulated these four objectives:

(a) To help secure Army camp library books and equipment primarily for rural library service, when this property is no longer needed by the Army.

(b) To help make other federally-owned surplus property, including books, available to college and university libraries, school libraries, public libraries, state library extension agencies, and other publicly-supported or tax-exempt libraries.

(c) To provide federal agencies with information concerning the nation's needs for improved and extended library service.

(d) To help interpret to federal officials the needs and functions of libraries of all kinds.

The value of such a fund to enable the American Library Association to carry on a four year program for the development of library service in the United States cannot be doubted. If only one of the four objectives listed in the above can be obtained, library service in Arkansas will take a long step forward. A public relations program in addition will be of immense value. Whatever advertising can be given any library service will benefit all of us.

Miss Mary Dowdle, Treasurer of the Arkansas Library Association, will handle the collection of money to meet Arkansas' quota. Two cards will be sent each board member and each librarian in April. As soon as you receive these cards, will you clip your contribution to one card and send them to Miss Mary Dowdle, Little Rock High School, Little Rock, Arkansas? She will report to Miss Leta Sowder, State Campaign Director, and to the committee members in charge of the campaign for each group. One of the cards will be receipted and returned to you if you desire it. The other will accompany your contribution to the American Library Association.

Help us to help Arkansas libraries by contributing to this fund.

Message From the President of the Arkansas Library Association

Most encouraging news for Arkansas Librarians during the past three months was the passage of the increased appropriation for the Arkansas State Library Commission by the state legislature. The new appropriation of $85,000 annually provides for an annual increase of $25,000. This will make possible the continuance of aid to county and regional libraries and funds will be available to set up new libraries in counties without libraries at present. The staff of the State Library Commission will be enlarged and the appropriation for books in the central collection of the Commission has been doubled. The legislative committee of the Arkansas Library Association worked in behalf of the measure and many other members of the Association as well.

Arkansas librarians are now being asked to take part in a national campaign, known as the Library Development Fund. The most pressing problem confronting the Arkansas Library Association during the next three months will be the raising of Arkansas' quota of $480.00. Librarians, trustees, and friends of libraries are being asked to contribute to the national fund during the month of April. Funds raised will be used to open an office of the American Library Association in Washington which will work for national library legislation and national publicity in the interest of libraries.

Because Arkansas libraries will surely profit from such a program, we hope to contribute more than the suggested allotment. When you receive your subscription card for the campaign please return your contribution as quickly as possible to Mary Dowdle, treasurer of the Association, Little Rock High School Library. Miss Leta Sowder, Executive secretary of the Commission, and Mr. Marvin Miller, Librarian of the University of Arkansas, are directing the campaign in Arkansas.

The executive board of the Association has filled two vacancies in the officers of the Arkansas Library Association since the first of the year. Miss Catharine Thompson, librarian of the Pulaski County Library, was selected to fill the position of vice-president succeeding Miss Lucile Lucas, who had resigned to accept a library position in Baltimore, Maryland. Miss Mary Hightower, librarian of the Sebastian County Library, Greenwood, Ark., was selected member-at-large of the Association.

Music In the Small Library

Leila L. Heasley*

From Mother Goose rhymes to Archibald MacLeish's "Air Raid," from Little Back Sambo's "Jungle Band" with sound effects to Maurice Evans and Judith Anderson's recording of "Macbeth," from "Shortenin' Bread" to the "Scheherazade Suite." The 266 phonograph records accumulated at the end of a six-months' experiment in the Louisville village library offer a wide selection for borrowers, whether they have not yet learned to read, are faced with the problem of locating program material for club or classroom use, or are merely seeking diversion in a time of gas rationing and other shortages.

Encouraged by the success of librarians in college and music departments who are offering this service, as well as the need of the school in which it is located, the library met the usual complications in beginning a new project—little space to spare, no funds for special equipment, a limited allotment for records, and an already overworked staff.

Because the portable phonograph, now kept in the library, belongs to the elementary school teachers, the collection was originally planned for classroom use in the first six grades only. As word of the service spread, requests from dramatic, English, language, and vocal and instrumental departments of the high school resulted in a wider selection. Soon town residents began asking for the privilege of borrowing them for home use. After many requests, and to fill a need for recreational facilities, it was decided to include dance records for high school students.

Insofar as possible popular requests were taken into consideration in adding to the collection. Most in demand have been Fred Waring recordings of religious and patriotic selections, the recent "Oklahoma" and "Carmen Jones" albums, and selections from such composers as Victor Herbert, Jerome Kern and Sigmund Romberg.

Of more limited appeal, but increasing greatly the value of a collection which serves the school, are educational recordings. Examples of the type include dramatizations of novels, poetry recordings with many contemporary poets reading their own poems, an album of French folk songs, one Latin reading from Caesar, and a large selection of children's stories, songs and poems. By means of this group, enrichment of the curriculum and a welcome departure from regular classroom routine have been made possible throughout the elementary, junior and senior high schools.

This article, recording an experiment she made there, first appeared in the OHIO LIBRARY TRUSTEE and has been reprinted in the library publications of other states.

In addition to its recreational and classroom use, the limited collection lends itself to a variety of unexpected uses. Younger children's records have been used with great success at home, in the nursery school and for story-hour program material. Marian Anderson recordings are requested, not only for use in the homes, but for study in vocal music classes, and in church school programs devoted to a study of racial prejudices. The illustrated album of "Macbeth," besides the recordings by a cast of outstanding actors, contains reference material on stage settings and costumes and has been used outside the school for club program material and adult education work.

The question most often asked and the one which caused most hesitation in beginning the project concerns broken records. From more than 1,900 records borrowed for use outside the library during the past six months, 23 have been broken or damaged. Seventeen of this number were of cheaper manufacturing quality which will not stand the wear demanded from a circulating collection, but were bought because no better ones of the desired type were available. Since the replacement cost was gladly paid by the borrower when he was at fault, the cost to the library has averaged less than $1.65 per month.

Practical advice concerning filing and cataloging was found in the Code for Cataloging Phonograph Records, published by the Music Library Association, and in a number of articles by librarians with experience in this type of service. In our case, the filing cabinet consists of two shelves behind the charging desk with partitions built in seven inches apart. The records are grouped according to size and filed vertically in numerical order by the accession number.

Although in its beginning stages, we feel that our experience has proved that a record collection is possible in the small library without too great expenditure in money or labor and has a great deal to offer—a new type of borrower has been attracted; a deeply appreciated service has been made possible; and, most important, the library has been assured a place in the post-war expansion in audio-visual materials so certain to come in the educational world.

School Libraries Today and Tomorrow: Functions and Standards

Of particular interest to school librarians, also decidedly worthwhile for any librarian serving schools in any capacity, is the new publication of the American Library Association, SCHOOL LIBRARIES FOR TODAY AND TOMORROW. Mrs. Mary Peacock Douglas, is chairman of the committee made up of representatives from the A.L.A. Division of Libraries for Children and Young People and The American Association of School Librarians, which is responsible for the publication. The pamphlet presents standards for efficient service based on the best practices and experiences of school librarians.

Copies of "Highlights" from this publication are available for distribution from the Arkansas State Library Commission. The pamphlet may be purchased from the American Library Association for one dollar.

Division of Public Libraries Established

The American Library Association now has a Division of Public Libraries comparable to the long-established Association of College and Reference Libraries. The Council voted favorably, for the second time, on October 13 on the petition of nearly 1,200 members. An organization meeting was held October 15 with Carl Vitz as convener and temporary chairman.

Interested librarians may designate this Division, in paying their 1945 A. L. A. dues, as the one to which they wish 20 per cent of their dues to be paid. At the same time they may indicate membership in one of the following sections: Adult Education, Branch Librarians, Business and Technology, Lending, Large Public Libraries, Order and Book Selection, Service Librarians (Army and Navy), and Small Public Libraries. Other sections will undoubtedly be organized later, for example, medium-sized public libraries.

CIRCULATING LIBRARY*

By Adin Ballou

I like a sparrow's feathered ways of thinking

And every sky-bound book a swallow reads.

I like the leaves a deer will turn,
when drinking

At some cool pond, among the pickerel weeds—

I like those systems of parental leading,

Where fawns get lily buds for early reading.

The Memorial Collection In the Public Library

Reports of gifts in the form of memorial collections of books and questions regarding book selections for memorials are being received frequently by the State Library Commission. Mrs. F. L. Proctor, Librarian of the Forrest City Public Library, reports one gift of one hundred dollars for a memorial and numerous smaller gifts. Mrs. Earle Spencer, Librarian of the Pine Bluff Public Library, asks for suggestions for purchases and says that people in Pine Bluff like the idea of books as memorials because of their permanence. Mrs. Hazel Deal, Librarian of the North Arkansas Regional Library, sends word of a memorial collection which has been started in memory of one of her young patrons. The books in the collection will include selections suitable for boys ten to fourteen years. Mrs. Clarice Johnson, Librarian of the Grant County Library, Sheridan, reports numerous additions to her memorial collection.

Because of the interest in building book collections of this type, we have asked Miss Vera Snook, librarian of the Little Rock Public Library, to make some suggestions regarding book selection for the memorial collection. The memorial collection at the Little Rock Public Library which contains about five hundred volumes has been built up over a period of years. The policy of this library has been to build a collection of worthwhile, lasting books in editions that are especially beautiful and attractive. All of the books contain a special memorial book plate and a list of the people for whom book memorials have been given is displayed in the library. Displays of the books, which are arranged from time to time, serve to interest others in giving books in memory of loved ones and friends. The books are allowed to circulate.

In making suggestions regarding selections for collections of this type Miss Snook recommends especially the books of the following publishers and presses:

Book of the Month Club
385 Madison Avenue
New York 17, N. Y.

Dodd, Mead and Company
432 4th Avenue
New York 16, N. Y.
Great Illustrated Classics
International Classics

Harper Brothers
49 E. 33rd Street
New York 16, N. Y.

Heritage Press
595 Madison Avenue
New York 22, N. Y.
All of the publications of this press
are in outstanding editions.

Hyperion Press
595 Madison Avenue
New York 22, N. Y.
Also noteworthy for beautiful editions

Literary Guild, Doubleday Doran
Garden City, N. Y.

Liveright Publishing Company
386 4th Avenue
New York 16, N. Y.
The Black and Gold Library

Peter Pauper Press
629 MacQuestion Parkway
Mt. Vernon, N. Y.

Scribner, Charles Scribner Sons
597 5th Avenue
New York 17, N. Y.

Scribner Great Illustrated Classics

Miss Snook suggests that a postcard addressed to the publishers listed above indicating the librarian's interest in books in outstanding editions will bring lists of titles now in print.

The problem of selecting suitable memorials for men, particularly those who have been lost in service, is an especially difficult one. The Little Rock Public Library has selected the works of Antoine de St. Exupery and of Ernie Pyle for memorials of this type. Our Fighting Navy, published by Macmillan, outstanding for its illustrations, has been included also for a memorial for a library patron lost in service.

Other titles in the memorial collection at the Little Rock Public Library which have proved to be especially suitable are:

Bailey, Cyril, ed. THE LEGACY OF ROME, Oxford.

Cadman, S. Parkes THE PROPHETS OF ISRAEL, Macmillan.

Chamberlain, Samuel THIS REALM, THIS ENGLAND, Hastings House.

Chiang, Meiling Sung LITTLE SISTER SU, John Day.

Deutsch, Leonhard, comp. A TREASURY OF THE WORLD'S FINEST FOLK SONG, Howell, Soskin.

Leighton, Clare SOUTHERN HARVEST, Macmillan.

Livingstone, Cyril, ed. THE LEGACY OF ROME, Oxford.

Millay, Edna St. Vincent COLLECTED LYRICS, Harper.

Miller, Alice Duer THE WHITE CLIFFS, Coward.

Peattie, Donald Culross JOURNEY INTO AMERICA, Houghton.

Percy, William Alexander COLLECTED POEMS, Knopf.

Other librarians have suggested the following titles for this purpose:

Bible THE GREAT STORY, Harcourt, $2.00.

Botkin, Benjamin Albert TREASURY OF AMERICAN FOLKLORE, Crown, $3.00.

Bowen, Catherine Drinker YANKEE FROM OLYMPUS, Little, $3.00.

Cairns, Huntington MASTERPIECES OF PAINTING, Random, $6.50.

Crane, Aimee A GALLERY OF GREAT PAINTINGS, Crown, $5.95.

Craven, Thomas STORY OF PAINTING, Simon, $5.00.

Daugherty, James Henry ABRAHAM LINCOLN, Viking, $3.50.

Goya y Lucientes, Francisco Jose de

COMPLETE ETCHINGS OF GOYA, Crown, $3.50.

Hathaway, Katharine Butler LITTLE LOCKSMITH, Coward, $2.50.

Holme, Bryan, ed. MASTER DRAWINGS, Studio, $3.50.

Jewell, Edward Allen FRENCH IMPRESSIONISTS, Random, $5.95.

Maus, Cynthia CHRIST AND THE FINE ARTS, Harper, $3.95.

Wheeler, Opal SING FOR CHRISTMAS, Dutton, $3.00.

WARNING

Librarians who have been receiving inquiries regarding a set of books, THE FIGHTING MEN OF ARKANSAS, will be interested in the following information supplied by Mr. Bert Presson, Adjutant of the American Legion. The set of books is not endorsed by the American Legion, nor as far as he knows by any reputable organization. The Legion does not approve of the methods employed by the Arkansas Historical Institute in selling the volumes, and it deplors the fact that wives and relatives of service men are being encouraged to invest in the set.

News Notes

New Member of the Arkansas State Library Commission—Mrs. M. F. Kirby, Rogers, has just been appointed to the Arkansas State Library Commission to succeed Mrs. O. Foster Mayfield, Rogers, resigned. Mrs. Kirby is a nominee of the Arkansas Federation of Women's Clubs which has long been interested in the advancement of libraries in Arkansas.

Pine Bluff Seeks Increased Library Tax—The Pine Bluff Public Library is busy making preparations for the city election in April. The library board and interested citizens are seeking to raise the city levy for the library from 1-2 to one mill.

Monticello Library Has Weekly Column—Mrs. L. B. Roberts, librarian of the Drew County Library, Monticello, is having success with a weekly library column in her county paper. She calls it BEYOND THE FLYLEAF and in it gives brief reviews of books to which she wishes to call the attention of her public.

Headquarters of the Randolph County Library to be Moved—Miss Norah Martin, librarian of the Randolph County Library, Pocahontas, writes that the library will be moved into the ground floor of the old Court House soon. The court house had been equipped as a U. S. O. center and it promises to provide attractive expanded quarters for the library.

Pine Bluff Has Author-Librarian—Nancy Rutherford, Librarian of The Jefferson County Library, Pine Bluff, is turning into a full-fledged author. Red Book Magazine has purchased a story which will appear soon and an article "The Librarian — Agent of Culture" of which she is the author is to appear in the March issue of the Peabody Journal of Education.

White County Has New Librarian—Hazel Wilson began work in the White County Library with headquarters in Searcy, January 15. Miss Wilson completed her work on her library degree at the University of Illinois in June of 1944 and worked in St. Louis in the office of Doubleday Doran before coming to Searcy. Before going to Illinois, she was librarian of the Conway County Library with headquarters in Morrilton.

Catharine Thompson New Vice-President of A. L. A. —Succeeding Lucile Lucas, who has left the state to work in the Enoch Pratt Library in Baltimore, Catharine Thompson takes over the duties of vice-president of the Arkansas Library Association. Miss Thompson will serve as chairman of the program committee of the Arkansas Library Association.

Sheridan Y. M. B. A. Aids Library—The Young Men's Business Association in Sheridan is taking an active interest in the Grant County Library. Mrs. Clarice Johnson, librarian, reports that the club has installed gas in the library and has donated a circulating heater.

Library Celebrates Fifth Birthday—In celebration of the fifth birthday anniversary of the Hempstead County Library, Hope, the staff members and the library board entertained at a very delightful dinner, complete with birthday cake and candles, on February 14 at 7:30 at the Hotel Barlow. Miss Elsie Weisenberger, Hempstead county librarian, was toast mistress. Miss Leta Sowder, Librarian and executive secretary, Little Rock, talked on "The Accomplishments of the Hempstead County Library."

County Library Institute—County librarians and trustees met in the War Memorial Building in Little Rock, February 9, for a business meeting. In spite of travel difficulties, all of the county libraries were represented with the exception of three. Miss Leta Sowder and Mrs. Allie Beth Martin conducted the meeting which was devoted to problems and business of the county group.

Do You Know That . . . .

Mrs. Alma Clements, formerly librarian of the Ashley County Library is librarian with Eastman in Knoxville, Tenn.

Mrs. Roy Hollar, formerly librarian of the Poinsett County Library, is now librarian of McMurray College in Abilene, Texas. Mrs. Hollar has also done county library work in Texas since leaving Arkansas.

Mrs. Frances Clark Bryson, librarian of the Pulaski County Library, until last August, is enjoying being a housekeeper and is at home in Little Rock, as is her assistant, Mrs. Marcella Mehaffy.

Mrs. Lois Rainer Green, who served as Pulaski County's first county librarian, is director of the state library extension service of the State of Alabama. Miss Sowder saw her and visited with her at the Chicago meeting of librarians, and she reports that Alabama librarians are working hard for an increase in their appropriation for state aid to libraries.

Gordon Bennett, who followed Lois Rainer Green as librarian of Pulaski County, is also in state library extension work, as director of the work in Colorado. Prior to his present position he served in the same capacity in West Virginia. His wife, Emmy Lou Bennett, is an instructor in the University of Denver library school.

Lulu Metcalf, formerly librarian of the Sharp County Library, is at present making her home with her sister in Mountain Home.

Mrs. William Ware, formerly librarian of the Union County Library, is now librarian of the El Dorado High School Library.

Alfred Rawlinson, first librarian and executive secretary of the Arkansas State Library Commission is now combining his duties as reader's advisor of the Richland County Library, Columbia, South Carolina, with teaching in the pre-flight school at the University of South Carolina.

Mrs. Carroll Bishop, who followed Mr. Rawlinson as librarian and executive secretary of the Commission, is now at home in Oklahoma City where she is working at the Oklahoma City Public Library.

Mrs. Vara Hardcastle Green, formerly librarian of Little Rock Junior College, is with her husband who is a member of the Army Medical Corps in the Army Hospital at Jackson, Miss.

Mrs. Irene Halliburton, formerly secretary in the office of the Commission, is now living in Washington, D. C., where her husband is employed as an artist in the Social Security Department.

Lucile Lucas, librarian of the Ozark Regional Library in Clarks-ville, since its opening, left January 9th for Baltimore, Maryland, where she is working in the reference department of the Enoch Pratt Library. Lucile reports that she has had some important and interesting patrons since she has been at Enoch Pratt, among them Oscar Levant.

Hugh Morgan, formerly bookkeeper of the State Library Commission, is now serving in the armed forces and is stationed in Salt Lake City, Utah.

Betty Douglas Reed (Mrs. Joseph W.), formerly librarian of the Lawrence County Library with headquarters in Walnut Ridge, is now living at 714 11th St., Tuscaloosa, Ala.

Librarians Plan to Attend Summer School

Seven of our Arkansas librarians have already made plans to attend library school this summer. Miss Gladys Sachse, of Yell County, Miss Jacqueline Rainwater of Lawrence County and Miss Vivian Maddox of Poinsett County plan to return to Louisiana State University for the summer's work. Mrs. Clarice Johnson of Grant County Library, Mrs. Ann Hall of Ashley County Library, and Miss Juanita Tucker of Pottsville High School will attend the library school at George Peabody College for Teachers. Mrs. Exa Gibson of Jerome Public Schools enters the University of Denver Library School this summer for her first quarter's work.

We want to congratulate these girls who are going ahead with the training that will make them better librarians and enable them to give better service in their chosen field. Their library boards, too, no doubt will give added recognition to those who are taking advanced studies that broaden their outlook.

Fellowships and Scholarships

The Graduate Library School of the University of Chicago has announced several fellowships and scholarships for the 1945-46 academic year.

Two full-tuition ($300) and two half-tuition ($150) scholarships are offered for professional study leading to the Bachelor of Library Science degree.

Applicants for fellowships and scholarships should write to the Graduate Library School, The University of Chicago, Chicago 37, Illinois.

Hospital Library Courses at Columbia University

The School of Library Service at Columbia University announces that a program relating to hospital libraries will be offered in the summer session, July 2 to August 10, 1945.

There will be a central course entitled "library work with hospital patients"; a number of related courses, at the School of Library Service and elsewhere on the campus; and probably field assignments for students desiring practical experience. The main course will be in charge of Miss Ernestine Rose, who organized libraries in eastern base hospitals for the rehabilitation of wounded men and worked in military libraries in Germany in World War I, and who subsequently was head of the 135th Street Branch of the New York Public Library. In her work Miss Rose will draw upon the resources of the New York district, including hospital librarians and other specialists.

The core course will build upon basic professional library training. It will be open to candidates who, being suited in other ways for library work with hospital patients, are graduates of accredited library schools. As a free elective in the regular curriculum it will be available also to students at the School of Library Service who possess appropriate personal qualifications and are sufficiently advanced to pursue elective courses.

Enquiries and requests for application forms may be addressed to the School of Library Service, Columbia University, New York 27, New York.

Have You Paid Your Membership Dues In the Arkansas Library Association For 1945?

Below are listed the paid members of the Arkansas Library Association as of March 15, 1945. A supplementary list of members whose dues were received too late to be included in this roster will appear in the next issue of Arkansas Libraries.

If you have neglected to pay your membership, mail your dues now to Miss Mary Dowdle, Librarian, Little Rock High School Library, Little Rock, Ark. Membership dues are as follows: Individual, $1.00 per year; Associate, $1.00 per year; Institutional, $2.00 per year, Life, $25.00.
